

Concord to Host Annual Tree Lighting & Mayor's Sing-Along Dec. 3

Santa, reindeer, treats, live performance, and more in store for holiday celebration

Concord, Calif. (Nov. 12, 2021) – Concord's Annual Tree Lighting and Mayor's Sing-Along is back! The City will host this family-favorite event on Friday, Dec. 3 from 5:30 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. in Todos Santos Plaza.

Families can take pictures with Santa in a Snow Globe, sponsored by Henley's Custom Cabinets, and kids will have a chance to feed Santa's reindeer. Children are also welcome to write and mail letters to Santa, which will receive a response from the jolly good fellow. For those who want to create a festive decoration, the Concord Art Association will be hosting a free, make-your-own holiday craft booth.

The event, which will be emceed by local TV personality and musician Dan Ashley, will also feature live performances by the Concord High Jazz Band, D'Ann's Dance Academy, Concord Parks & Recreation Ballet, the Westwood Elementary 3rd Grade Choir, and a concert by Music & Market favorite, The 925 Band! Following the performances, Concord Mayor Tim McGallian will lead the crowd in a sing-along and light the celebratory tree at 7:30 p.m. All on-stage performances will be broadcast live on Concord's TV channel (Comcast 28, Wave 29, and U-verse 99) and through the livestream on the City's website: www.cityofconcord.org/TV

In addition to these festivities, the Todos Santos Business Association will be sponsoring carriage rides for $5 per person, and hosting a "Sip 'n' Stroll." Local restaurants will provide tasty bites and beverages from 5 to 8 p.m. for $15. A map of participating businesses and a menu of what they will be sampling will be available soon.

Tickets for the Sip N' Stoll can be purchased here.
